George and the dragon

Once upon a time there was a brave knight called George. George had lots of adventures as he travelled by horse across many lands.

One day he came to a small village and met a man who lived in a cave next to the village.

The hermit told the knight about the awful things that were happening there. A terrible dragon had come to live in the lake and attacked the village every day.

The villagers didn't know what to do. First, they gave the dragon all their food, but the dragon just took the food and still attacked the village.

So then the villagers gave the dragon all the animals from their farms. The dragon took all the animals, but continued to attack the villagers.

So then they gave the dragon all their gold and jewels. The dragon took all their money, but still was not satisfied.

The king sent his army to try and capture the dragon, but the dragon was too strong and the knights of the army were too scared and they ran away.

With nothing left to give, the king could only think of one thing to help protect his people. He sent his only daughter, the princess, to the lake to wait for the dragon.

When George heard this he rode as fast as he could to the lake. Just then the dragon jumped out from the lake and was going to eat the princess.

George attacked the dragon. He fought very bravely, won the fight and killed the dragon. George and the princess returned to the village and everyone was very pleased that they would have no more problems with the dragon.

Today, the story of George's bravery is remembered and George is known as the patron saint of many countries.

The princess and the dragon

Short story

Once upon a time there was a king and queen who lived in a golden castle with their beautiful daughter. One night an ugly ogre captured the beautiful princess and locked her up in his tall, dark tower.

'Help me!
'Roar!'

The king and queen were very sad. They promised to give a bag of gold to the knight that rescued the princess.

'Please save our princess!
'We'll save the princess!'

All the knights in the land wanted to rescue the princess. They rode to the tower as fast as they could.

'Help me!
'Roar!'

The ugly ogre roared with anger when he saw the knights. His roar was so scary that they rode away as fast as they could.

One day a friendly dragon was flying over the ogre's tower when he heard the princess cry for help.

The dragon flew down to the tower, took a big fiery breath and blew the ogre far away over the mountains and into the ocean.

'Come with me, princess. Don't be scared!
'Thank you for saving me.'
'My pleasure, princess.'

The dragon rescued the princess from the tower and gently put her on his strong back. They flew high in the sky. They flew over the tower and the castle, over the mountains and caves, and out towards the deep blue ocean.

'Whee! I can fly!'

The dragon and the princess flew to the castle. The king and queen were so happy to see the princess they gave the dragon the bag of gold. They all lived happily ever after.

'Thank you for saving our princess!
'My pleasure!'

Nessie - the Loch Ness Monster

British tales

Have you heard of Nessie, the Loch Ness Monster? Loch Ness is a very large, deep lake in Scotland. Many people think a monster lives in it.

The first report of Nessie was back in the sixth century. A man called St Columba reported seeing a monster in the water, but he told the monster to go back, and he was safe.

'Go back!'

'OK, if you insist.'

Then, in 1933, Nessie was seen again by George Spicer and his wife – she crossed the road in front of their car.

'What a beautiful day for a picnic.'

'Arghhh!'

The next year, a photo was taken of Nessie, which became very famous. It was taken by a doctor – but the photo turned out to be fake.

Since then, there have been several more sightings of Nessie. Some people have tried to take photos and videos, but Nessie is very shy and the pictures are not very clear.

'The paparazzi are everywhere!'

People have also tried exploring the lake, but it is very deep and very dark. Some people watched the lake, while other people used equipment like underwater cameras, microphones and sonar to scan the lake carefully.

People have even explored the lake in submersibles. No one has found anything definite.

There are lots of possible explanations for what people have seen in Loch Ness. Maybe the monster is just a giant eel, a large bird, a tree or a seal. A few people even think it could be a plesiosaur, which is a type of dinosaur.

'Or maybe I'm just unique!'

So, what do you think? Do you believe that Nessie, the Loch Ness Monster, really exists?
